

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

South Reno project is irresponsible

A recent letter to the editor stated how honest Commissioner Bob Lucey is and that he is full of integrity, as well as responsive and accessible ["Criticism of Lucey disappointing," Opinion, Aug. 11]. Bob Lucey has shown none of these qualities regarding the Ascenté project in the Fawn Lane/Callahan Ranch area. He has been entirely unresponsive while completely ducking this issue.

Even though the Truckee Meadows is in an economic boom, that doesn't mean irresponsible growth is the answer. Just a few reasons the Ascenté project is irresponsible include homes being out of character and price with the existing neighborhoods, traffic and noise issues for existing residents, and not supported by the great majority of residents in this immediate area. The Ascenté project also directly contradicts the ideals and direction behind the Save Mt. Rose Corridor and Galena Forest plans.

Those outside of this area need to shut their mouths. It's easy to make decisions that won't negatively affect you or your neighbors.
